HEART DISEASE FIRST CAUSE MAINE DEATHS

Annual Campaign In Progress—
Donald Christie Local Chairman

Ward W. Whyte, State Chairman for the Maine Heart Association 1951 Heart Campaign, states that heart disease is the leading cause of death in the State of Maine. In the 1951 campaign, conducted in the month of February, a goal of $80,000 is sought.

Mr. Whyte stated that the Maine Heart Association campaign will mean more than just another campaign to the citizens of the State. The money raised will be used to continue the services already started, such as establishing more cardiac clinics. There are clinics already in Portland, Bangor, Caribou and there will be on Feb. 14 another clinic opened in Lewiston. These are operated by known cardiologists in the State—men who are specialists in this field.

In discussing heart disease, Mr. Whyte stated that it was no respecter of class, color or creed, and that age was not a factor. Congenital malformations are evidenced at birth, and rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart constitute the leading fatal disease in young people between the ages of 5 and 19. Nearly one out of every two deaths after the age of 45 is caused by heart disease. Mr. Whyte stated:

Mr. Whyte stated that 152,000,000 work days, or billions of dollars in productivity are lost each year because of cardiovascular diseases.

"The term heart disease," said Mr. Whyte, "covers a multitude of diseases. Many of these are unrelated, but all involve the circulation and include the heart and blood vessels. The three most common are rheumatic heart, which is caused by rheumatic fever, coronary heart disease caused by hardening and narrowing of the coronary arteries, and hypertensive heart disease resulting from high blood pressure."

Mr. Whyte urged each and every community to do its proportional part, which is 10 cents per capita, toward this $80,000 goal. In placing this price tag on the heart program for the state, Mr. Whyte stated that cardiologists were hopeful that they could do much to educate the citizens and more to alleviate the great death toll in our State.

Donald M. Christie has been named local chairman of this year's campaign. Collections will be made through the schools and contributions in the plastic heart coin collectors in stores. Individuals may also contribute by sending checks, payable to the Maine Heart Association, to Mr. Christie.

Cool weather the last of the week was followed by about two inches of snow Sunday morning which handicapped traffic in places. It was colder Monday morning but has been warmer since. An all-day rain Wednesday caused the schools to close in the afternoon and today traveling this Thursday morning is not good, as the lower temperatures checked the rising waters but left slush and frozen surfaces.

GOULD DROPS TWO GAMES IN WEEK

WILTON 40—GOULD 36

With what looked like a neat victory well in hand, the Huskies suddenly fell apart and threw away the game in the final period. The home team had an 11 point lead and still held a 7 point 34-27 lead as they started the last quarter.

Johnson, who was given the job to guard Masterman, did well holding him to 6 points in the first 3 periods; but when the team won, to pieces, the Wilton star added 5 more for a total of 11, one of the smallest totals he has had this season.

Poor free throw shooting, coupled with poor and reckless passing in field shooting, caused the Huskies to drop what could easily have been a third victory in a row. Lowell and Agnese with 17 and 11 points were high for the losers. Masterman with 11 points was the only double figure scorer for the visitors, but three others scored 7 each.

LIV. FALLS 46—GOULD 44

The Gould Huskies made a gam-bid to upset one of the league leaders here Tuesday when they dropped a thrilling 46-44 overtime game to Laverne Falls. Trailing by about 5 points through the first periods, the home team suddenly appeared to overtake the Andies and at one time led by 3 points. The visitor's great start, LaPointe, would not be beaten as he paced the Andies to a one point lead, only to have Bennett tie the score with a foul shot before the final period ended. In the overtime, he single-handedly won the game as he scored 2 from the field and one from the free throw line.

The Huskies played excellent ball and have shown great improvement during the season. With a 10-1 home record, they could be on a par with any team in the league. Norm Lowell continues his high scoring with 24 points which included 10 out of 13 free throw chances. Agnese did well off the boards and followed with 11 points.

For the visitors, LaPointe's 2 points led, while Richards made 1, and Herbert 7 to aid their cause.

Youngstown Educators For Freedom

Recently it was my good fortune to see at first hand the results that may be achieved by an enlightened educational program in which parents, educators and business men join in transmitting to school youngsters a deep appreciation of American democracy, social and political freedoms. Upon the initiation of the appreciation of citizens of Washington, D.C. and the National and Business Foundations, I spent three days in the District of Columbia, visiting the various schools and the various departments of the government. My contact with the American people was most interesting and profitable.

One of the strongest features that I observed was the high regard for the American system of government. The American people are proud of their government and their system. ARTHUR E. ROBERTS, North Shattisbury, Vermont, says that a remark was made to him one day that he will remember many years; that it will help him for many years. He has forgotten all the details but he is convinced that a certain associate of his named Bob is a very fine fellow. He says Bob can ask a favor of him any time and he will do his best to grant it.

Why all this excitement in the mental attitude of Arthur Roberts?

Just this: There was a difficult situation to be handled with a customer of the firm, a certain Mr. Kane. He went to the above-lauded friend Bob and asked for some information to pass on to Mr. Kane. When he wrote the letter, he had a copy made and sent it to Bob. Shortly Bob called him on the telephone and said:

"Art, I just read the copy of your letter to Mr. Kane, and I want to say that I think you handled that situation admirably; that was a very fine letter."

When Arthur thanked Bob and added that he had only passed on the information Bob had furnished him, Bob replied, "No, you did far more than that. You and I both know that the letter you answered contained a suggestion both ridiculous and preposterous. But you straightened out the matter without making the fellow feel like a darn fool."

Says Arthur Roberts: "I am for this appreciation stuff 100 per cent. Since a few words of praise can have such an effect upon me, I am resolved to give honest, sincere appreciation to others whenever opportunity arises."

THE SENATE SMALL BUSINESS committee says that small business in the nation is fighting for its life. That situation already has been many small firms, and that government had better see to it that the services get a fair share of defense contracts.

As a result of several days of testimony, Senator John Sparkman of Alabama and Congressman Wright Patman of Texas, chairman, respectively, of the senate and house small business committees, introduced identical bills calling for set-up of a small defense plants corporation with a revolving loan fund of $250,000,000 and a five-member board with more positive authority than was given the similar smaller war plants corporation during World War II. The bill would give the corporation power to assure small business a fair share of business from prime government contractors and at the same time give the corporation power to make contracts with the government and sublet to small businesses.

After more than a year of investigation, the department of agriculture is expected to announce some major reorganization plans to more efficiently and effectively give service to the American farmer. Chief among the reorganization plans, which began when Albert Lowland was undersecretary, and which have been carried on since his resignation by Undersecretary Clarence J. McConmick, is a merging of some of the technical services performed by production and marketing administration in soil conservation, and the soil conservation service itself, with the aid of a small number of the overlapping functions at the county level between the two departments. The plan follows some of the recommendations of the Hoover report.

There is a move underway in Congress with some efforts to revise some of the provisions of the Cessall law affecting prices for some of their commodities. The Cessall amendments guarantee to the farmer, if he was other community interests were involved in participating in the creating and carrying out of projects. Movies were produced, booklets and brochures published, speakers went to various radio facilities and other media were utilized — all spreading facts about how the Macmillan-Chambers district developed and grew, the unlimited opportunities it offers, the interdependence of its various group interests and how its advantages stem from the freedom of the American way of life.

The Institute's District Committee, comprising 17 school people and two industry representatives, employed a textbook writer and two years ago began publishing a series of supplemental textbooks. The use of these books, along with other materials developed by the committee, and the enthusiastic spirit of teachers and parents of the area have made the high school population of the Youngstown district one of the nation's strongest for freedom. What has been done at Youngstown can be done in every community, every region. If spread nationwide, it could make America stronger and our freedom far more secure.

By LITTLE HULL

THE VIGILANTES are coming back! And these vigilantes, instead of stringing up horse thieves, will give their attention to the Reds' saboteur squads.

Consider the terrible handicap which the non-Communist nations will have to overcome when the Asiatic borders start their invasion of the democratic world. Every Red agent in Europe and America will have his instructions; and there will scarcely be enough monkey-wrenches in existence to go around. In every industry, on every dock, in every ship there will be the terror squads of the Red command. How can all the secret service departments in Europe and America hope to apprehend these enemies before they have done their deadly work? And what devastating work they can do!

So some smart men, reportedly connected with foreign labor unions, are organizing internationally counter-terror squads to take care of situations which could lose a war in its initial stage.

These vigilance committees are not going to wear kid gloves; but they won't have to go "outside the law" to accomplish their purposes. If a group of terrorists attempt to seize a ship on the high seas, a vigilance group will have the legal right to protect the ship and themselves. If the terrorists attempt to wreck an industrial plant which is making implements for the defense of this country, a vigilance committee would have the legal right to stop them. Self-protection is the first law of nature and of the land.

According to a recent report from Paris, committees of vigilance have already been organized in France, Italy and Greece, and will be formed in Britain, Belgium, Holland, West Germany, Scandinavia, Israel, Turkey and Egypt. Nice work for labor! And let us hope they will start the same organizations here—and quickly. If the Kremlin knew that their saboteur plans would misfire, it might go a long way toward altering their immediate plans to enslave the occidental world.

"I REMEMBER"

BY THE OLDTIMERS

From Miss Edith Cory, Chipley, Fla.: I remember when train travel was by day coach, no diners. We had a big covered picnic basket, carefully filled with food to last the journey. When the passengers all opened their baskets, the food odors and the train smoke were not an appetizing mixture for me. After a couple of days, the food was messy and not appetizing at all. At some stations boys would go through the cars selling sandwiches and pies, and one could buy a cup of coffee through the window. Later there were 30 minute calls for meals.

From E. E. Meredith, Fairmont, W. Va.: I remember when all children wore dresses and had long hair until they were six or seven years old. It was a difficult matter to pick out the boys from the girls.

From Estelle C. Laughlin, Germantown, Neb.: I remember when Dr. Haines' Golden Specific was advertised for curing drunkenness and a common query in a "heart and home" column was: "Please advise me what powder to buy to cure Papa of the vile tobacco habit." The women have given up and joined him in the "vile habit."

From J. Elmer Camryn, Seattle, Wash.: I remember the daily chore of cleaning the horse-drawn lamp chimneys, trimming the wicks and adding kerosene. Sometimes when wicks or oil were short, water was added in the well of the lamp. A short supply of oil forced a top placing your hand over one end of the chimney and blowing your breath in the other end provided moisture for wicking. To blow out lamp, you "puffed" a hand at an angle at the top and blew against it from the side.

(Send your memories to The Old Times, Box 140, Frankfort, Ky.)

Established since the time of King James. That every man's home is his castle has been the trademark of free England for centuries. This right was loaned to the British government during war. Today, more than 10,000 British government employees are empowered to enter homes without a warrant, to count the milk bottles and the children. A British citizen suggesting such a course ten years ago would have been ostracized. Yet it happened there; it can happen here.

"We should be alert and vigilant in seeing to it that rights loaned to Washington today as a military emergency, are for the duration only. History, unfortunately, shows that the enjoyment of such powers by government bureaus is a temptation to make the duration last longer than the war itself."

ATTESTED T. WINKLOW, Secretary of Senate

MRS. MABEL KIMBALL BEAN

Born in Bethel, Maine, July 13, 1867. Died in Rutland, Vt., Feb. 2, 1951.

Mrs. Bean was the youngest daughter of Israel Granville and Lavina H. Duxin Kimball. She grew to young womanhood at the home in Middle Intervale and was educated in the schools of Bethel. In 1892 she was united in marriage to Edward Bean, the son of Hiram Holt Bean of East Bethel. They lived a few years here in Bethel, then going to Massachusetts. They spent a number of years there where Mr. Bean was employed by the C. I. Hood Co., moving to Bellows Falls, Vt., their home was there for many years, until Mr. Bean's health failed and they lived at Hartland.

Two sons, and one daughter were born to them: Roy, a railroad man in Rutland, Vt., and Ralph, a member of the fire company in that city; Cecyl, the daughter, married Floyd Davis and lives at Hartland Four Corners, Vt. There are four grandsons: Richard, Robert, Lawrence, and Norman Davis; four nephews, Lawrence Kimball, Bethel-Harry Blake and Don Blake, California, and Lawrence Philbrook, of Shelburne, N. H.; six nieces, Mrs. Marjorie Rix, Gorham, N. H.—Mrs. Arla Payne, Nashua, N. H.—Miss Jo Blake, Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Alice Records, California — Mrs. O. W. Fales, Dorchester, Mass., and Mrs. Edith K. Howe, of Bethel.

After Mr. Bean's death some years ago Mrs. Bean made her home with her children. Many summers she came to Bethel and stayed at the home of her brother, B. W. Kimball, and renewed old friendships with the neighbors.

She had been a great sufferer for years with a serious trouble with her back and the best care, skill, and hospital treatment were unable to help her. She passed away at the Rutland Hospital, Friday morning, Feb. 2, 1951.

Funeral services were held at the home and burial was at Hartland, Vt., Sunday, Feb. 4.

She is remembered by all who knew her as a tender devoted wife and mother, a friend faithful and sincere.

Good Night! dear one, we softly say For we know she has finished her quest. She has found the realm the weary seek, God's home of Peace and Rest.

Put out the light! She needs not its glow. For her vision is Heavenly clear. The angels sweet music we know is soft to her listening ear.

The years of pain are forgotten now. And the longings for loved ones gone. For God has given her loved ones back.

In the beautiful morning's dawn. Over the meadows sweet and clear. The olden songs I seem to hear. And all by myself I find the way back to each golden yesterday.

Faring in fancy until I stand Grasping your ready friendly hand. Some times there comes at fancy's choice The lifting cadence of your voice. Sometimes it's dim, sometimes it's clear.

But I keep the music that I hear All to myself, I hold and know All of the days of long ago.

Wonderful days when you and I Owned all the sunshine in the sky. All by myself I think of you. Think of the things we used to do. Old days come as old days will, And again we climb the long high hill.

Ah! Memory brings the old days near. —But YOU are gone, so Good Night! dear.

PLANT BLUE TAG POTATO SEED, AVOID

VERTICILLIUM WILT

Plant Maine Blue Tag Certified Potato Seed and avoid verticillium wilt, advises Extension Service Crops Specialist Oscar L. Wyman. Planting seed infected with verticillium contaminates the soil, often making it unsafe to plant potatoes there again for a number of years. Verticillium showed up seriously in some Maine potato fields in 1950. It could become a serious menace. The only safe thing to do is to plant nothing but seed known to be free of appreciable amounts of verticillium wilt, such as Maine Blue Tag Certified.

A WORD TO WORK WITH

Today's word is understanding. Understanding means intelligence, wisdom, skill and is very closely related to performance and demonstration. In fact they are inseparable.

A popular saying has it that "all good things go in threes." Joy is a good companion to make up the threesome. "With joy shall ye take water from the wells of salvation," says Isaiah 12:3.

Misunderstandings must be eradicated. To bring out the correct relationship of human kind, we must cast out fear, doubts, hatred, envy and greed. Understanding is the gift to man.

SKI CORNER

Ski conditions at the Bethel Ski and Outing Club tow improved this week and will be announced as usual at Billy and Martha's Roadside Grille. Membership tickets should be obtained to enjoy lower prices.

The Bethel ski tow reports a very successful weekend for the first time this year. An ardent group broke out the icy crust on Saturday which then made very good skiing and then Saturday night's two inch snowfall made Sunday's skiing excellent. If there had been any doubts about the lack of ski enthusiasm, the sight of 14 cash customers skiing in the pouring rain Thursday night should have removed all doubts.

For the rest of this season the town will operate on its former schedule of Thursday evenings, Saturday all day, and Sunday afternoon.

It has come to the attention of the directors of the ski-tow that there has been some criticism of the policy of charging children, 50c on Sunday afternoons. We would like to point out that the tow is a non-profit organization but we do have quite a few bills unpaid.

At the moment we still owe over three hundred dollars on the original loan and also have a new rope to pay for. Of course, we would like to get our indebtedness paid off and we feel that only by having one profitable day per week could this ever be accomplished. Children can still ski free on Saturday mornings and for 25c Saturday afternoons. Also we try to be very lenient about allowing a child who wishes to earn a free ticket by doing odd jobs and tramping the hill.

Nobody's Business

The interest of the Chamber of Commerce in the village's auto parking problem is a good sign. As many know, we have had a lot to say about law observance in this connection, and we still believe there is little excuse for the general disregard of the regulations and flagrant discourtesy practiced by many who know better.

During "rush" periods travel on Main Street is unsafe at normal speeds. The extreme congestion between the monument and the head of the street is not likely to improve, regardless of improved practices. There isn't space enough for shoppers and theatre-goers during the Saturday afternoon and evening rush. Off-street parking will help, also the willingness to walk a short distance.

During the wind-up of the police drive last week, people of a Massachusetts city were frightened and irritated by continued sounding of fire alarms and church bells. The same apprehension was felt in Bethel during the "Mothers March." We doubt if contributors were more generous because of the unannounced disturbance.

Bench Haven, N. J., Times: "Faced with higher and higher taxes, more and more citizens today are demanding all possible curtailment of non-war expenditures and the highest possible value for every dollar spent by government."

Reynoldsville, Pa., Star: "Those who are raising the cry today that the federal government is rapidly entering every phase of this country's economy, can only ask themselves one question, 'How many times did I invite it to do that very thing?' The less we cry piteously in both our state and local affairs, the more this trend of benevolent control from the Capitol will diminish. It is time to choose our masters."

Taylorville, Ill., Daily Breeze-Courier: "Tyranny, like hell, is not easily conquered." These stirring words were uttered during our Revolution by that undaunted fighter for liberty, Thomas Paine. They are worth remembering in dark days. Despite many discouragements tyranny was finally conquered then, and so it will be again."
